LANOLINE POMADE.

LANOLINE, the purified fat of sheep's wool, has been so acknowledged by the highest authorities as a fair preservative, and Lanoline Pomade, its derivative, has been recommended by the profession as the natural emollient for the hair. Lanoline Pomade, as a rule contains fatty acids produced by the decomposition of the oils and fats, and it is these acids, concealed only by the perfume, which are so peculiarly injurious.

Lanoline Pomade is supplied by all Chemists.
